Sells, Ariz. -- Primary Election Day is Tuesday, Aug. 2. Candidates are seeking nominations for local, state and federal offices and it's important we make our voices heard. Polling places will be open Tuesday from 6:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Bring Necessary ID

Make sure to bring identification, like a driver's license or similar government photo ID. You can use your Tribal ID, but you will need a second form of ID that has your address. If you don't have any of these forms of identification, you can bring two non-photo IDs with your name and address, like a utility bill or a voter registration card.

Where to Early Vote

For Pima County voters, the TOKA Community Building in Sells is hosting early voting from 9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. through Friday, July 29. It will also be open for emergency early voting on Saturday, July 30 from 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. and Monday, August 1, from 9am – 4:00 p.m.

If you received a vote by mail ballot and haven't sent it in, please drop it off in person at an early voting center or your polling place (typically your District office).
